BIO

Mike has been a musician all of his life, studying classical piano at the age of five. Raised by two music teachers, there was never a shortage of knowledge and inspiration in his home. Mike started his professional career as a singer/songwriter, and had two albums with songs on the Canadian charts. He fell in love with film and television while shooting his music videos with his aspiring filmmaker friends. As their careers grew, so did Mike's and he quickly became a highly sought after composer in the film and television industry.

To date, he has scored 24 feature films, 13 TV series, 18 documentaries and numerous shorts. Career highlights include John Fawcett's world-wide cult favorite "Ginger Snaps", and "Lucky Girl" which was the first of six features for CTV. "100 Days in the Jungle" – a movie directed by Sturla Gunnarsson, earned him a "Gemini" award, and Robert Cuffley's "Turning Paige" garnered him a "Genie" nomination. Other feature highlights include, "The Nutty Professor" starring Jerry Lewis, and the Sundance cult smash "Tucker & Dale Vs. Evil".
